Course Activities/Requirements

Assignments are due by midnight (your time) on the day they are due. I would ask that you submit your assignments in the online Moodle classroom accessible through MyCourses. When you go to the Moodle classroom, you will see assignment folders where you can submit assignments. Once I have marked your assignment, I will put it in your grade book in the Moodle classroom where you can check your grade and review the comments I made on the assignment (you will receive an automatic notification whenever I put a graded assignment in your grade book). Please note that I will typically deduct 5% of an assignment's total possible value for each day that it is late. I will consider extensions in exceptional circumstances such as a medical emergency (when a doctor's note accompanies the request). For the times when I allow a student to rewrite an assignment, I will generally take off 20% of the assignment's value before assigning a grade to the rewritten assignment.

Here is an overview of all the assignments followed by a detailed description of them:

Week	Due Date	Assignments	% Final Grade	Cumulative %
1	June 29	Pre-reading due

Course Pre-Reading Requirement

Due to the condensed nature of this course, please have the following read before the course begins on May 4, 2020:

- The “Introduction” within Wenham’s commentary on Genesis 1-15.
- Book of Genesis
- Use one of the databases listed at <http://libguides.twu.ca/religiousstudies/articles> to find and read one excellent, peer-reviewed academic journal article related to Genesis in early Jewish interpretation, preferably published in the past 10 years. Be prepared to write a 200-300 “substantive” forum post on this article for use in the first forum week. Please include full bibliographic information and a link to the full text of the article.

You will be expected to integrate ideas from these readings into the forum discussions and other assignments

Readings and Online Forum Participation (25 % of the final grade)

Foundational to this course is the expectation that students will carefully and thoroughly read the book of Genesis and the Wenham’s textbooks. Stuart’s exegesis book, an optional course book, does not need to be read “cover-to-cover” but is a tool to assist you during your exegesis and application projects. There are also videos listed on the course Moodle site. Please watch the Logos videos. As you read and watch, please take notes in preparation for participation in the online forum. At any time in the course, you may initiate or join in discussions on the online forum. For grading purposes, interaction on the online forum though, your knowledgeable and thoughtful interaction on the online forum will be divided into four segments. You should plan to invest approximately four hours into crafting forum posts and responding to forum discussions during each two-week forum segment, for a total of approximately 16 hours during the course. Each two-week forum segment is worth 5% of your final grade. Although it is impossible to interact knowledgeably in the forums if you have not completed the readings and watched the videos, I will also grant an additional 5% will be given for completion of the reading log that records your readings. The reading log is due June 27 @ 11:59 pm.

Students are expected to contribute to the forum discussions by posting a minimum of four conversational (worth up to 10 points each) and three substantive contributions (worth up to 20 points each) per forum week. Please make sure that you spread out your contributions over at least three days during the designated forum weeks so that you engage in the forum conversations at different points.

By conversational contributions, I mean simply joining the flow of discussion with shorter responses (e.g. questions, affirmations, quick thoughts about what someone has said).

By substantive responses, I mean responses that show a deep processing of relevant ideas (this usually takes 200-300 words). We have a tremendous opportunity to build upon one another's knowledge, insights, and experience. Our goal is to collaborate in the forum. At times, we will respectfully challenge each other. We anticipate that this will be a rich time of dialogue. To create a safe environment for this to take place, we must build a supportive subculture that encourages one another. Disagreeing and challenging can be stimulating if done in an edifying manner.

Substantive participation may include (among other things):

- Providing and developing a new thought, idea, or perspective.
- Citing an experience or example of what we are learning and showing how it applies.
- Adding a new twist on a perspective.
- Critically reflecting on an idea/concept.
- Questioning or challenging a principle/perspective and giving reasons for your questioning.
- Integrating Scripture and other sources in a meaningful way

What Substantive Participation is NOT:

- Very basic comments such as "I agree" or "I disagree."
- Restating what someone has said (unless there is a direct purpose in doing so).
- Disrespectfully disagreeing.
- Pat answers that are not thought-provoking.

Below are examples of how to stimulate your own and others' thinking:

- What would happen if...
- Other times it may be helpful to...
- It is my understanding...what is your experience with this?
- You might approach this from...
- Is it possible that...
- Would you consider...
- Maybe...
- Possibly...
- Sometimes...
- I'm wondering if...
- Do you think...

Have fun!

Note: You can use any of your forum posts in other papers for this course. I would also encourage you to view the posts of others as resources that you can cite in your papers. Everyone brings a wealth of insights into the class!

Exegetical Paper (25% of the Final Grade)

Each student will write a 12-15-page exegetical paper on a passage from the book of Genesis of your choice. The exegetical procedure to follow is posted on the home page of the course website. Individual steps of the process may be submitted for feedback and interaction. Due May 23 @ 11:59 pm.

Application Project (25% of the final grade)

Each student will write, video record, and post online (e.g. on YouTube, Google Drive, One Drive) and submit a link to it through the course website for at least one 20-minute sermon (more/longer is permissible!) on a passage from the book of Genesis of your choice. Please choose a different passage than you chose for your exegetical paper. The exegetical procedure to follow is posted on the home page of the course website. You are encouraged (but not required) to post your sermon to a specially designated forum for peer-to-peer feedback before you submit it for grading. Due June 13 @ 11:59 pm

Short Paper and Online Discussion (25%)

Students will post a short paper (1500-1700 word MAX) on the book of Genesis. The choice of possible topics and possible week to present will be posted on the course website. This is an academic, research paper (Turabian/SBL style). You must cite at least 5 peer reviewed sources. For the online discussion, during your chosen week please post a draft of your paper in MS Word or PDF format to the appropriate forum along with a short abstract of your paper and two discussion questions. Please monitor responses to your paper and respond as appropriate. Based on the feedback you receive from the online discussion of your paper, please revise your paper for final submission for grading. The discussion of these papers will form part of your forum participation grade. The final, revised paper is due June 27 @ 11:59 pm.

One of the core values of Trinity Western University is the integration of academic excellence with high standards of personal, moral, and spiritual integrity. The University considers it a serious offence when an individual attempts to gain unearned academic credit. It is the student's responsibility to be informed about what constitutes academic misconduct. For details on this, and on identifying and avoiding plagiarism go to the University Homepage > Academics > Academic Calendar (p. 47).
